Song Title	Artist	Album
-------------------	---------------	--------------

"I'm in the mood for jazz, simply because your listening..." y'know, my comments are not anything I actually said on the air, or sang for that matter, just in case you're wondering if I started my shift by personally massacring a standard!

Lady in Black	Arnold Hammerschlag Group	Sailing Neptune's Waters
Velouria	The Bad Plus	Give
House of Lords	Duke Ellington (duet with Earl Hines)	Solos, Duets, & Trios

Trumpeter Hammerschlag's Group features pianist Ethan Iverson, perhaps a yet to be crowned 21st century jazz great. After his appearance with AHG, he went on to be BAAAD, with The Bad Plus. Hammerschlag is currently spending time in a Buddhist retreat center. If this weren't radio, a few moments of silent meditation would be a nice way to honor his endeavors. Instead, let's rock!

Ahab	Tom Griesgraber	A Whisper in the Thunder
Roll Plymouth Rock	Brian Wilson	Smile
Barnyard	Brian Wilson	Smile
Losing True	The Roches	Keep On Doing

I'll need to play Smile in its entirety sometime. Y'know it's like one of those albums from the late 60's through the mid-70's that was meant to be played from beginning to end. How rare is that for an album released in 2004? Oh, but it was MEANT to be released in 1966! I get it, I get it! BEFORE anyone was doing it! A true genius, Brian Wilson. Tortured and insane, too, but that generally fits the equation. Hey! Summer's coming! Shall we have tons of sand dumped in our studio for some audio inspiration a' la Brian Wilson??? (Gaah, nobody takes my suggestions around here.)

30 years ago, before Suzzy Roche made the Roches the Roches, older sisters Maggie & Terre released "Seductive Reasoning" with the help of Paul Simon. Check out how different their sound was!

If you emptied out all your pockets you could not make the change	Maggie & Terre Roche	Seductive Reasoning
Oh! Susanna	Michelle Shocked & Pete Anderson	Beautiful Dreamer – The Songs of Stephen Foster
Undecided	Stephane Grappelli	Afternoon In Paris
Te a pas raison (You have no reason)	The Alleyboys of Abbeville	Cajun Music Volume I

Angel Eyes	Joe Lovano	Rush Hour
------------	------------	-----------

Rush Hour features the brilliant arranger and leader Gunther Schuller. The Foster Collection comes from the library of our own Chris Potter, which appears to have tasteful 'updates' if you will of this 19th c, American Songwriter's stuff.

Ciao!	Lush	CD Single
You're no good	Linda Ronstandt	A Retrospective
I was born without you	Tracy Bonham	Blink the Brightest
The Dog Song	Nellie McKay	Get Away from Me

Bonham's album is a New Release, and McKay's album got my vote for Best of 2004...well it WOULD have, had Rolling Stone and Billboard returned my calls. Sheesh! Here are a couple of tunes from a forgotten new wave band. Surely Kellogg's was in on this....or they sued...

Bullets	Pop Art	Snap Crackle
Once Before	Pop Art	Snap Crackle
At My Most Beautiful	REM	Up
Douce dame jolie	Theo Bleckmann	Origami

Douce dame jolie was written by Guillaume Machaut. Bleckmann was a guest at our station back in February with jazz guitarist Ben Monder (go to <http://www.wdfh.org/Music2.htm#TheoBen>.)

Before Free Speech Radio News gives me a breather, let's go Latino.

Cu cu ru cu paloma	Trini Lopez	The Latin Album
Song for Maggie	Los Mas Valientes	Titere Fue'
Cumbia Raza	Los Lobos	Live at the Fillmore
Korean Bodega	Fun Lovin' Criminals	100% Columbian

Here's the great thing about free-from radio. I just picked these albums and CD's out randomly. I wasn't planning on doing a "Latino" set. Trini Lopez was a new one on me, but he's been around forever, having been born in the Dallas Barrio in 1937, and got a break from fellow Texan Buddy Holly. He was inducted into the International Music Hall of Fame in 2003. The Latin Album is one of 'Mr. La Bamba's' early recordings (from the 60's). Titere Fue' and Los Lobos Live at the Fillmore are both new releases. Another new release begins the next set:

Black Forest (Lorelei)	Mercury Rev	The Secret Migration
Emotional Rescue	The Rolling Stones	Emotional Rescue
Vaccination Scar	The Tragically Hip	In Between Evolution
Celebrity Skin	Hole	Celebrity Skin

From art song to pop hits, Lorelei, which happens to be my sister's name, certainly has inspired a lot of music. Ah well. Missy doesn't quite roll off the tongue the same way, nor is tied to a fantastic myth about mermaids luring in men at sea with their siren song only to pull them in to a watery death by crashing on the rocks. Missy tends to be used as a rebuke.

More new music sandwiches the next set:

Maninda	Moussa Diallo	(Putamayo presents) Mali
Shoganai	King Crimson	Happy with what you have to be happy with
The Garden (Part II)	Jennifer Gentle	Valende
Almost late for work	Jazspring	Seasons & Sentiment
Ray-El	Elvin Jones	Elvin!
Lonely at the top	Randy Newman	Sail Away

More song from the walking jukebox – “Do you remember when you were down, and you needed a helping hand?” (Catch me now I'm falling – The Kinks)

(Wish I could fly like) Superman	The Kinks	Low Budget
Magneto & Titanium Man	Paul McCartney & Wings	Venus & Mars
Busted	Cheap Trick	Busted
A self-made man	Tom Petty & the Heartbreakers	Let Me Up (I've Had Enough)

We could be heroes, just for one day! Okay, enough out of me, almost! What was up with the parentheses in song titles of the 70's? There's the Kinks example...maybe it was a disco thing (Superman's got the disco beat going on!) Do you recall other disco titles like Shake your body (down to the ground)...what else? There were so many! Here's a guess....Voulez-vous couchez avec moi (ce soir). Let's go out with Dania, who will be in our studios live with her new band on June 3 with Vinny Cohan. Check out <http://www.wdfh.org/Music2.htm#Dania0605>

Thanks for joining me!

Brush Strokes	Dania	Live at WDFH, 4/4. /2004
